ARTICLE II. THE REGIONAL CONVENTION

Section A. General Provisions

1. The Regional Convention shall be the business meeting and educational symposium of the Southwest Region. Held annually, the event shall be executed in the spring semester of each academic year prior to the date of the National Convention, unless otherwise ordered by the Regional Board or by the NBLSA National Executive Board or General Assembly.
2. There shall be a steering committee, led by the Regional Convention Director, which shall be responsible for the planning, structure, and implementation of the Convention. They shall be guided on necessary logistics (e.g., budgeting, speaker procurement, vendors, etc.) by members of the Regional Board, where appropriate.

3. Each state shall, in turn (as listed in Article I, Section D of the Regional Governing Articles), serve as the host state for the Convention, which shall entitle the presidents (or their designee) of the local chapters located therein and the regional chair to be ex officio “hosts” of the convention and members of the convention steering committee.
4. At no time shall the Regional Convention be held in the same state as an impending National Convention being held in the same academic year. This provision may be waived with sufficient reasoning by the Regional Board.
5. The Regional Chair shall retain general oversight and management authority over the execution of the Convention, and shall serve as an ex-officio member of the convention steering committee
6. The Convention shall be the site of the annual meeting of the Regional Assembly, and the Regional Chair shall be responsible for ensuring that adequate provisions are made for the efficient execution of the business meetings of the Assembly.
7. The Region shall be empowered to create and enforce rules, protocols, and conference policies to guide and govern the conduct of members at the convention. BLSA members attending Regional conventions are charged with constructive knowledge of the rules of the convention.

Section B. Meetings of the Regional Assembly

1. The presiding officer of the Assembly shall be addressed as Mr./Madam Regional Chair and all comments, questions, points, and motions shall be addressed through the presiding officer.
2. At all times, the presiding officer shall be empowered to maintain order and decorum through means available through these Bylaws, Convention policies, and Robert's Rules of Order. The presiding officer of a Regional committee shall be addressed as Mr./Madam Chair, and shall have the same powers as the Assembly presiding officer, in the context of their own committees, where applicable.
3. The meetings of the Assembly shall be governed by the Regional Convention Rules of Order and the most recent edition of Robert's Rules of Order, in addition to the dictates of the governing documents and duly passed legislation.
4. Persons wishing to be recognized in meetings of the Assembly, or any subset thereof, shall be acknowledged by the presiding officer prior to speaking before the body, unless stating a point or motion that obviates such recognition.

5. At no time shall a member be allowed to use slanderous, unprofessional, or otherwise offensive language towards members of the Assembly, the chair, or members of the public in the course of speaking in the Assembly. The presiding officer shall have sufficient authority to enforce this rule.
6. The presiding officer shall be required to step away from the Chair and yield the gavel on any question in which there is a conflict of interest or where they wish to endorse a particular position. The presiding officer may then return to the Chair after the body has dispensed with the item in question.

Section C. Regional Assembly Debate & Speaking Rights

1. For each legislative item before the Regional Assembly, there shall be a presentation by the sponsor or author of the item, a period of questions, and a period of debate. The Regional Assembly may place restrictions or dispense with these items, at its discretion, by motion.
2. Delegates of the Regional Assembly shall not forward argumentative statements during the period designated for questions. The presiding officer shall have sufficient authority to enforce this provision.
3. Delegates of the Regional Assembly shall enjoy full speaking and voting rights during the meetings of the Regional Assembly and its committees, which shall include the rights to speak in debate, make and second motions, as well as present legislation. Voting by Regional Assembly members may only be circumscribed in the case of a clear conflict of interest. Delegates shall hold themselves to the highest integrity in assessing such conflicts and act accordingly.
4. Regional officers, as listed in the Regional Governing Articles, shall be empowered to speak during debate and ask questions in the meetings of the full Regional Assembly or its committees, but shall not make motions or vote. The Assembly may grant speaking rights to any person it so chooses.
5. The Regional Assembly, alone, shall have power to limit the speaking rights, time, or frequency of any attendee to its meetings. The presiding officer, in the interest of efficiency, may recommend motions for limitations on speaking rights, time, or frequency.

6. For the regular debate periods on legislative items, each speaker may raise two speeches for each question before the body; however, the Regional Assembly may extend, further limit, or suspend regulations on the frequency and/or length of points of debate by motion. In recognizing members for debate, the presiding officer shall give preference to persons having not spoken on the question before the Regional Assembly prior to returning to previous speakers.
7. All debate, points of information, i.e. inquiries of a non parliamentary nature, and motions to amend shall be germane to the question or legislative item before the body. In addition, members of the Regional Assembly shall not be empowered to make motions that are found to be dilatory or to otherwise prevent the orderly and prudent conduct of Regional business, in explicit nature or implicit intent. The presiding officer shall have power to rule out of order debate, questions, points, motions and other speech not in compliance with this provision and those rules adopted by the Regional Assembly or provided by Robert's Rules of Order.

Section D. Regional Assembly Agenda

1. The agenda of Regional Assembly meetings shall be crafted by the Regional Chair and Regional Parliamentarian, or their designee, and made available to the members of the Regional Assembly before the opening plenary session.
2. Submissions to the agenda shall be due by noon (12:00 pm) thirty (30) days prior to the meeting. The Regional Chair, or their designee, shall have sufficient authority and flexibility to enforce this rule. Additional amendments or modifications to the agenda may be entertained by the Regional Assembly at the appropriate time in the agenda.
3. Agenda materials shall be compiled and distributed to the attending chapters within ten (10) days of the plenary session. The Regional Board may utilize electronic means of distribution, but shall have copies available for delegates to view said materials at the site of the Regional Assembly meeting.

Section E. Legislation & The Legislative Process

1. Regional Assembly legislation shall be comprised of resolutions written to enforce or enact policies under the powers granted to the Assembly under Article II, Section C of the Regional Governing Articles.

2. The Regional Assembly may also pass motions, under Assembly rules and Robert's Rules of Order, on procedures or ordering action on members, officers, or other regulated entities, in order to effectuate the smooth regulation of business before it. These motions shall be recorded in the minutes, and shall be binding on the internal procedures of the Assembly only.
3. Any chapter shall enjoy the privilege to author and submit legislation, but may only present or propose such legislation on their own accord or by proxy on the floor of the Regional Assembly, as provided within the Bylaws or applicable Regional policy.
4. Resolutions submitted to the Region for Regional Assembly consideration shall be referred to the Regional Governing Articles and Bylaws Committee which shall review the legislation for compliance and report out the intended effects of the legislation. The Committee may reject any legislation that is inherently in violation of the Regional Governing Articles and/or Bylaws of the Region or NBLSA.
5. The Regional Governing Articles and Bylaws committee, in its consideration of the resolution, may propose amendments or changes. It may report out the original or an amended version of the submitted legislation with a favorable recommendation, by majority vote. Amendments to legislation either proposed by the committee or heard as motions on the Regional Assembly floor shall be relevant and germane to the subject and purpose of the resolution being considered.
6. Legislation receiving a favorable vote in committee may be brought forward by the committee chair to the Regional Assembly for second and final consideration. A presentation by the sponsor, remarks from the committee chair, questions, and debate will be held on the legislation, and the Regional Assembly shall be empowered to vote on the legislation.
